Challenge: We were presented with the need to bind a one and a half inch thick book with a wrap-around cover. It was necessary to keep the solution economical, which was a challenge, given that the book could not be automatically mechanically bound, nor is there an existing automatic mechanical binding suitable for such a book.

Solution: The Binding Edge pursued creative options with .094 gauge wire spiral, hand processed the job, and used our own heavy-duty cutter heads to cut and crimp the wire ourselves. We trimmed off the spine, punched for the binding and inserted the wire spiral. We are pleased to report that the job proved a great success both for us and our client.
